ZEPPELIN SHIP

ON LONG FLIGHT

Newest Dirigible Balloon Starts Its Aerial Cruise to Berlin, 450 Miles

TO REACH THERE SATURDAY

(Special from United Press.)

Friedrichshafen, Aug. 26.—Everything is in readiness for the start at 7 o'clock this evening of the aerial cruise of the Zeppelin III, the newest Zeppelin dirigible balloon, to Berlin, where it is expected to arrive Saturday. The distance to Berlin is 450 miles "as the crow flies," and it is thought that the big ship will have no difficulty in reaching the German capital on time.

The ship was originally scheduled for today, but the Kaiser, ever mindful of the little folk, wired Zeppelin that he would consider it a favor if the Count would bring his airship into the capital on a day when the children would not be in school so that all of them might see the ship. For this reason the trip was postponed until tonight.

Count Zeppelin himself will not be in the airship when it starts. He plans to board it at Bitterfeld, 100 miles from Berlin, on Saturday. The Count is just recovering from a severe operation for an abscess on his neck and he does not feel equal to the strain of conducting the ship on such a long voyage.

This will be the first appearance of a Zeppelin balloon in Berlin and dispatches from there say that thousands of excursionists are already pouring into the city to honor the Count. The dirigible will effect a landing, if everything goes well, in the Tempelhofer Field within easy reach of the populous of the city, but this idea was abandoned as the police feared that a crowd of more than a million people would gather and that it might become unmanageable.

The Emperor and Empress and a brilliant suite will be at Tegel. At present the trip is partly to make amends for the hoax of May 30 when it was reported that Zeppelin was sailing to Berlin. The Kaiser gathered his household about him then to meet the Count on his arrival, but the aged aviator, who never allowed himself to be deceived, turned his ship around at Bitterfeld and began the return trip. The Count was grieved when he learned that the Kaiser had been disappointed.

He promised then to make a flight from Friedrichshafen to the capital.

The newest airship is the biggest yet constructed by Zeppelin. It will carry 20 passengers besides the crew, and is fitted with two 250 horse power engines that are expected to enable it to fly in the face of heavy winds.

Taxes

New Laws Summarized

By Commissioner Corbin

Important Changes in Law of Succession

Tax

Several important changes have been made by the recent Legislature in the laws governing local and state taxation, and these have been summarized as follows by Tax Commissioner Corbin:

Assessors.—The most important probably is the act requiring the election of three assessors, except in those towns which now elect or appoint their assessors in a similar manner under special act. In those towns holding annual elections the terms ultimately will be three years, one being elected each year. In the towns holding biennial elections, the terms will be four years, one and two assessors being chosen alternately at succeeding biennial elections. This does away with minority representation. An amendment extends the time from twenty to sixty days from November 1, when the assessors may summon before them any person who has failed to bond in his real estate property.

"Two Acres"—It has heretofore been customary to include land, not over four acres, in the valuation of dwelling houses and other buildings. The law has been changed so that all house or building lots must be assessed separately from the buildings thereon.

Non-residents.—It has been difficult for the assessors to secure proper information relative to the taxable property owned by non-residents. Hereafter, all non-residents holding property in any town will be subject to the same provisions relating to lists, including the 10 per cent. addition for failure to hand in lists which had on a day when the children would not be in school so that all of them might see the ship. For this reason the trip was postponed until tonight.

Count Zeppelin himself will not be in the airship when it starts. He plans to board it at Bitterfeld, 100 miles from Berlin, on Saturday. FUNERAL RITES OF FATHER DUCEY

Thousands Attend Services and Take Last Look at Their Dead Friend

MGR. LAVELLE'S TRIBUTE

New York, Aug. 26, 1909.

The funeral services over the Rev. Thomas J. Ducey, for thirty years pastor of St. Leo's Roman Catholic church in West Twenty-eighth Street, were held in that edifice yesterday.

None but those holding tickets was admitted to the church. After the services all those who wished to and they numbered some thousands—filed into the little church to take a last look at their dead friend.

The church was draped in black. Everywhere was a profusion of flowers. At the head of the casket, and directly in front of the altar, a catafalque had been placed. On it rested the coffin containing the body of Father Ducey. The body had been raised so that the face and hands—the latter folded across the body—could be seen by every one in the church. It was clothed in the dead priest's vestments.

The services opened with the chanting of the divine office by the priests. It was during the Mass that Archbishop Farley, who had come direct from Camaraca, reached the church and took a place inside the sanctuary.

Mgr. Lavelle, Vicar General, delivered the address. In a voice, which at times failed him because of his emotion, Mgr. Lavelle spoke of the loss the church had sustained by the death of Father Ducey.

Mgr. Lavelle told in simple language the history of the dead priest's life from the time he was born in New York, Ireland, 47 years ago, until his death last Sunday morning.

At the conclusion of Mgr. Lavelle's address, Archbishop Farley performed the concluding rites of the service, sprinkling the body with holy water. As the procession of priests was leaving the sanctuary, Mrs. Julia A. O'Connor, who had known Father Ducey for a long time, sang Cardinal Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light" and "Mother of Christ."

The musical part of the services was furnished by a choir of twelve priests, while the Rev. Father Kellner, S. J., of New Rochelle, presided. Many other religious and social organizations. Among those sending floral tribute were the Lambs, Chauncey O'Brien, and the Holy Family Cemetery later in the afternoon.

Among the laymen attending were: William E. Iselin and family, Walter B. Hildreth, James J. Everard, William A. Brady and his wife, Grace George, Patrick F. McGowan and representatives of the Lambs, the Press club, the Players, the Catholic club, and many other religious and social organizations.
